

Record Crowds Attend Opening Of Auto Show

Lewis G. Stapley, Who Takes Place of Commissioner Harnett, Talks on Accidents and Taxes — Mayor Dempsey Asks Support of Public — Many Accessory Booths — Show Closes Saturday Night.

Tenth Annual Automobile Show in the state armory was officially opened Thursday evening by Morton Lown, Mayor Edgar J. Dempsey and Lewis G. Stapley, representing the Empire State Automobile Merchants' Association. Mr. Stapley appeared in the absence of Motor Commissioner Charles A. Harnett, who at the last moment found it impossible to come to Kingston from Chicago. The greatest crowds ever to attend a Kingston auto show were on hand for the opening Thursday evening.

Mr. Lown, in opening the program, called upon Mayor Dempsey for a few words. The mayor thanked the dealers in behalf of the public, and asked that the people of Kingston lend their support to the dealers for their efforts in giving such a fine display of cars.

Mr. Stapley explained that the absence of Commissioner Harnett was due to the great demand made upon the commissioner, and that he regretted very much that he was unable to attend. The speaker stressed the many accidents that occurred during 1929, and said that the majority of them were due to carelessness of driver and pedestrian.

The money received for motor taxes this year will all be spent to improve the roads in the state, the speaker stated. Heretofore the money has been divided, some going toward roads and the remainder being divided in crossing improvements and the like. Last year 2,315,000 plates were issued to cars in the state, he said, which gives an idea of the amount of revenue that will go toward the construction of roads.

In regard to accidents, Mr. Stapley asked that each motorist and pedestrian resolve to be more careful this year in an effort to reduce the number of fatalities and make driving safer. In closing he said: "I now declare this tenth annual automobile show officially opened."

Accessory Dealers.

The accessory dealers at the automobile show have a real job on their hands to get together their booths and arrange their displays. The automobile men simply roll their cars on the floor and position them and then set peddlers to work cleaning them up, but the accessory men have to erect their stands and then arrange a multitude of small articles and things in an artistic display.

That job of placing the accessory booths was completed in time for the opening of the show Thursday afternoon and there are some very interesting and attractive displays.

Those who are displaying as accessory dealers are:

Kingston Oil Company.
Frederick C. Winters.
James Austin.
Vanderlyn Battery.
Ulster County Automobile Club.
Universal Electric Appliance.
Elliott Clark.
Forsyth & Davis, Inc.
Rose & Gorman.
Fred Dowell.
Brown Auto Supply Company.

The above dealers are handling either automobile accessories, radios or some kind of electrical equipment.

Kingston Oil Display.

The Kingston Oil Company, distributors for Beacon Oil products in this section, has a very attractive display at the left of the entrance. This is a model plant designed after the Kingston plant and constructed absolutely to scale. In the display is shown the offices, electrically lighted, the adjoining garages and also railroad spur, with a tank car being loaded and at the rear the big storage tanks all built in exact proportion. The "plant" is surrounded by a fence and the whole idea is worked out in a very clever manner.

Frederick C. Winters has a very attractive display of pianos at his space.

James Austin, located at the right of the entrance, is displaying a line of automobile tires.

The Vanderlyn Battery Company has a display of Exide batteries.

There is a booth occupied by the Ulster County Automobile Club where an attendant will be delighted to explain the services rendered by the organization to motorists.

Majestic radios are displayed by the Universal Electric Appliance Company.

Elliott C. Clark, radio expert, is demonstrating the Victor radio in the side room where the lunch room is located.

Forsyth & Davis are also showing radios of the Atwater-Kent make as well as outdoor motors.

Rose & Gorman have a display of Eureka vacuum cleaners.

Fred Dowell is showing Kelvinator electric refrigerators and Stewar-Warner radios.

Brown Auto Supply.

One of the largest displays in the accessory line is that of the Brown Auto Supply Company. Mr. Brown

Finds Benefits Of Prohibition Outweigh Evils

Congressman Fort Pleads for Calm and Rational Consideration of Dry Law Problem—Will Never be Settled by Emotional Partisans.

Washington, Jan. 31 (P).—Representative Fort, Republican, New Jersey, today balanced the benefits of prohibition against its evils, declared the former to be preponderant and pleaded for a calm and rational consideration of the problem of the dry laws.

"No question which moves its partisans to fanatical emotionalism will ever be solved by their efforts," he said in a prepared address delivered in the House, his first speech on this subject as a member of Congress.

Fort is prominent in the ranks of his party. Until a few days ago he was secretary of the Republican national committee.

Summing up conditions under the prohibition laws, he found little need for any change in the statutes as they exist at present, but suggested a clarification of the Volstead act as it applies to the manufacture of wines and beer for home consumption, which, he argued, is permitted.

Fort said he began the use of intoxicating beverages at the age of 18, feeling it to be "a social necessity," and abandoned it at the age of 42, feeling its disadvantages as a "social duty." He asserted that he was opposed to prohibition when the Eighteenth Amendment was adopted, but that the first few years of prohibition had convinced him that it was of great value.

The "evils" of prohibition, he said, are "real... important... must be checked." They must be checked, he asserted, "because the law under which they occur is here to stay without substantial change."

He contrasted the numerical opposition in the house with the present strength of the wet bloc, asserting that while 128 voted against submission of the amendment to the states, the wets now have 61 avowed members in their unofficial organization. This circumstance he interpreted as a reflection of popular sentiment in the nation's 435 congressional districts.

He praised prohibition as having brought a new industrial era of increased efficiency and output. America, he said, now buys for cash and he added that there are whole communities today in which not a single store sells on credit. The chief credit buying he said, is installment purchasing of luxuries and he asserted that "the return of the liquor traffic would ruin that."

He challenged the opponents of prohibition to offer an alternative for the present system and analyzed the possibilities of government selling, as he saw them.

"Perhaps the act needs clarification on the question of home brewing, although nobody has ever been convicted for making it for home use. But, otherwise, it seems to me pretty clearly to fulfill the purposes of its adoption and to satisfy the real wishes of the American people—for the preservation of their industrial system, their property and their homes."

He advised those who want total abstinence to follow prohibition to leave enforcement to the officers of the law and return to the educational programs that they engaged in before prohibition was adopted.

Conference Committee Plan Strikes a Snag

London, Jan. 31 (P).—Plans of the naval conference to set a special committee consider the two rival methods of measuring navies—global and categorical—were sidetracked today at least for the present.

Faced with an apparent hitch in the British effort to choose committee members to speak for both Great Britain and the Dominions, the full conference itself continued today with the work previously assigned the committee and decided to hold another meeting on the same subject Tuesday.

Find Traces Of Lost Aviator

Nome, Alaska, Jan. 31 (P).—Encouraged by finding an aviator's helmet and a pair of gloves, searchers digging in the snow and ice 90 miles southeast of North Cape, Siberia, for the bodies of Carl Ben Eielson and Earl Borland went on with their task today.

The helmet and gloves, unearthed from the ice strewn wreckage of the Eielson plane, were identified yesterday as those used by Borland. No trace of the bodies was found; but the searchers still were convinced that Eielson and Borland died in the wreckage last November 9.

The plane, wrecked while Eielson was attempting a flight to the fur trading ship Nanuk, icebound at North Cape, was located Saturday by pilots Joe Crosson and Harold Gillingham while on an aerial scouting trip from the Nanuk.

Seven men were dispatched to the scene of the wreck from the Nanuk to begin digging away the ice and hard packed snow which all but covered the wreck. Two more men were taken to the scene yesterday from the Russian supply ship Staropole, which also is locked in the ice at North Cape. The firmness of the ice and snow has made it impossible to rush the searching operations.

The theory was advanced here by persons familiar with the Siberian wastes that the bodies might not be recovered, as the country is overrun by wolves and other carnivorous animals.

Burhans Fills His Ice House

Lucas Avenue Dealer Harvests 10 and 11 inch ice From His Lake—Rondout Creek Ice Is Now 7 1/2 Inches Thick.

The ice fields in the Rondout creek gained a 1/4 of an inch in thickness owing to the below zero weather of Thursday night, and the ice fields of John A. Fischer of Abel street has a thickness of 7 1/2 inches. Mr. Fischer will not start harvesting from the creek until the ice reaches a thickness of at least 8 inches.

There is now excellent skating on the Rondout creek, and many are enjoying the sport on the ice.

Brookhart Makes Further Discovery

Heads Letter Charging That Gln Cocktails are Regularly Served at Well Known Club in New York.

Washington, Jan. 31 (P).—Senator Brookhart has a letter which says that "real gin cocktails" are served at a famous New York club—an organization which numbers President Hoover among its members and Chairman George W. Wickersham of the law enforcement commission among its officers.

Brookhart read a part of it in the Senate late yesterday, offered a few remarks of his own and promised that in the near future he would have still more to say on the subject.

Meanwhile, he is particularly anxious that Wickersham see the communication, and hopes that "at an early date he will be ready to advise us how to stop these violations of the liquor law."

The club in question is the Century Association, at 7 West 43rd street, one of the most exclusive in New York city. It was founded by William Cullen Bryant and is devoted to the advancement of the arts, its membership includes a long list of men distinguished in the professions, the arts, and the sciences.

The tariff bill and the question of imposing an import duty on straw hats were laid aside quickly when Brookhart produced his letter, and a half dozen members entered with a vim into a rousing discussion of prohibition, a subject seldom mentioned these days in the Senate chamber, despite the heated controversy that has been in progress for more than a month.

Tydings of Maryland, a Democrat, told the Iowa senator that by a diligent search he could discover fifty such clubs in any large American city.

Brookhart replied that Tydings was one of a group which is "crazy on this liquor issue."

Copeland of New York, wanted to know how Brookhart had obtained admission to the Century Club and added that he himself couldn't get in "with a pickaxe."

Brookhart said he had not been in the club.

The debate then settled down to a discussion of the measure of the success of the prohibition law, Brookhart contending that "booze conditions" have improved, and the wets heatedly denying this assertion. Copeland told him he was "blind and deaf." The portion of the letter produced by Brookhart bore the heading: "Century Club, 7 West 43rd street, New York City."

Fish House Run Punch.

It read:

"With all the chaotic conditions now surrounding the enforcement of the Volstead act, why not inquire some time about the special privilege accorded this association where real gin cocktails are served at the monthly dinners usually attended by 100 to 150 members and then consider the wonderful Fish House run punch that appeared at the last New Year Eve celebration."

Brookhart would not say who was the author of the communication although he was pressed for an answer to this question by Bingham of Connecticut.

Charles A. Platt is president of the Century Association, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler is first vice president, and Wickersham is second vice president.

Brookhart recently regaled the Senate with an account of what he termed a "Wall Street Boozing Party" given here three years previous for new members of the Senate.

Club Members Refuse Comment.

New York, Jan. 31 (P).—Members of the Century Club, which at one time forbade its members playing bridge, today refused to comment on charges of Senator Smith Brookhart that gin cocktails were served at the club.

The Century Club, also known as the Century Association, was founded by William Cullen Bryant in 1847. It has a club house in West 43rd street, just off Fifth avenue. It lists among its officers, George W. Wickersham, chairman of President Hoover's Crime Commission, as second vice president, and Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, as first vice president.

The roster of over 600 members includes President Hoover.

Membership of the club has included Woodrow Wilson, Theodore Roosevelt and William Howard Taft. Charles A. Platt is president, Alexander Dana Rhodes, secretary and Henry De Forest Baldwin, treasurer.

The club sponsors an art exhibit each month and its members frequently give lectures on subjects ranging from playwriting to politics and deep sea fishing.

The membership includes outstanding lawyers, churchmen, artists and men widely known in the realm of letters and education.

The commission left here today for Paris, where it will continue preliminary organization of the bank.

P. S. C. Orders 20 Per Cent Cut In New Phone Rates

Commission Directs Telephone Company To Put New Rates Into Effect at Midnight—Orders Four-party Service Continued—Federal Injunction Threatened.

Father Duffy Dies in Hospital

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 31 (P).—The Public Service Commission today ordered the New York Telephone Company to put into effect at midnight a new rates schedule which, in effect, reduced by 20 per cent the new schedule already announced by the telephone company and which continued four-party service as furnished up to present, which the company had announced would be discontinued.

The commission also ordered the telephone company to make the necessary changes in its rates schedule and to file the revised schedule "forthwith."

Telephone company officials indicated that they would move for a federal court injunction restraining the commission from enforcing its order.

Members of the commission said that if such an injunction were obtained there appeared to be nothing further the commission could do until the matter had been fully argued in the court.

Members of the Public Service Commission estimated that the rates increase ordered by the commission would give the telephone company an increase over its present rates schedule of $11,000,000 instead of the $14,000,000 which the schedule proposed by the company would have allowed.

The mechanics of arriving at the reduction from the company's rates are laid out in the commission's order so as to direct the company, in each month's bill rendered to subscribers, to reduce by 20 per cent in arriving at the total bill all increases over the present rates, charges and rentals.

After reciting the history of the present rate case, the Commission declares that "the public interest requires the fixing of immediate temporary rates, charges or rentals pending the final determination of the rates, charges or rentals to be thereafter demanded, exacted or collected by the said New York Telephone Company."

The Federal Court order enjoined the Commission from enforcing the present rates as quoted, and the actual order of the Commission is worded as follows:

Ordered:

"1.—That the New York Telephone Company be and it hereby is authorized and directed to put in effect as temporary rates, charges or rentals the schedule of rates, charges and rentals submitted by it to this commission on January 20, 1930, with the following changes and reductions:

"(A) All increases over the rates, charges and rentals as set forth in sheets 1 and 2 and provided for by said submitted schedules shall in each month's bill rendered to subscribers be reduced by 20 per cent of such amount in arriving at the total bill.

"(B) Four party service as at present furnished in the exchange areas of groups 10 and 11, in the 'update' schedule shall be continued at the rates, charges and rentals provided for in the New York Telephone Company's schedules effective March 1, 1930, and July 1, 1930.

"2.—That the New York Telephone Company shall forthwith file with this commission the schedule of rates heretofore submitted with the changes and reductions provided for herein.

65th Street Car Bombing.

New Orleans, Jan. 31 (P).—The sixty-fifth bombing of New Orleans street cars tore the floor from a trolley last night and shattered its windows. Mrs. Angelina Manzeri, 55, suffered from shock but three other passengers and the crew of the car were unhurt. The dynamiting was similar to the other trolley explosions which have occurred intermittently since a strike of motormen and conductors last July. The car rolled over a bomb placed between the rails at a street intersection. Mrs. Manzeri was revived without medical attention. An investigation by police and federal deputy marshals had been fruitless early today.

WOMEN TO VISIT WORLD WAR DEAD

Gold Star Mothers and Widows Will Go to Europe in May.

Washington.—In May, 1930, 12 years after the long lines of olive-green American soldiers marched across the battlefields of France, a thinner line of Americans will follow along paths which end in eight cemeteries where sleep 80,791 American soldier dead. There will be no martial music to announce their coming and no banners waving a challenge to a foe. Some of these pilgrims will be bent with age and will falter along the paths where once their sons walked so confidently strong, even though time has done much to smooth the way.

The United States government is making it possible for these mothers and widows to visit the graves of their heroic dead.

The office of the quartermaster general was given charge of the pilgrimages when congress passed a bill, on March 2, 1920, directing the War department to make the necessary preparations for the voyages.

In the cemetery division Maj. John T. Harris and Capt. A. D. Hughes are arranging the details, while the many contact problems between the War department and the widows and mothers are being worked out by Miss Stowell, of the cemetery division of the quartermaster general's office.

Month Allowed for Trip.
Between May 1, 1930, and October 31, 1933, the pilgrimages for groups will be scheduled as nearly as possible to suit the wishes of those who are going. It is expected that most of the 11,500 mothers and widows will go. More than half have already signified their intention to make the journey, and most of them wish to go as early as possible in 1930. The pilgrims will sail on American liners, and it is expected that about a month will be taken for each trip.

The government will pay every expense from the time the pilgrim leaves her home until she is back again. At New York a staff of managers will take charge of the assembled group for each trip and will see that every comfort is provided. Among the assistants that will accompany each group will be guides, physicians, nurses and interpreters.

The itinerary for each person will be arranged. She will be given descriptive material relating to the particular cemetery which she will visit. Her hotel reservations will be arranged in the town most convenient to the cemetery where her son or husband is buried.

30,791 Graves in Eight Cemeteries.
In the eight cemeteries where are buried American dead in European soil there are 30,791 graves of American soldiers, sailors and marines who died in the World War. Of this number 20,140 have been identified.

There are 70 isolated graves under the care of the United States government called "do not disturb" cases. These graves have been left alone because relatives wished the soldier to be buried where he fell, as in the case of Quentin Roosevelt. There are approximately 20 "special" cases in which a soldier of foreign extraction serving under the American flag was buried in his native land because his relatives so desired.

Not all of the graves will be visited by either mother or wife because many of the soldiers have neither surviving. Some have both mother and wife who may make the pilgrimage. The War department reported on December 1 that 6,590 of the 11,500 eligible wives and mothers had accepted the government's invitation. The mothers and widows who would not be considered eligible to go at the government's expense are those that have visited the graves at some previous time. A widow would not be eligible to go if she has married again.

Cemeteries Beautified.
The eight cemeteries—six in France, one in Belgium and one in England—are kept with great care. Landscape gardeners have placed plants and flowers for decorations, and in the center of each cemetery at all times floats an American flag. The graves, laid out in rows, are marked by white marble headstones which have replaced the temporary ones of wood. Only two types of headstones are used—the cross for the soldier of Christian faith and the shield of David for those of Jewish faith.

On each headstone is inscribed the soldier's name and rank, the organization in which he served, the date of his death and the state from which he came. The inscription on the graves of the Unknown Soldiers is "Here rests in honored glory an American soldier known but to God."

Because the officers of the cemetery division of the quartermaster general's office are working unceasingly on the slightest clues that may reveal the identity of the Unknown Soldier, many identifications are being established. By the time the pilgrimages are nearing a close it is expected that many of the "Unknown" will have been identified. The cemetery division works in co-operation with the American Graves Registration office in France.

Sometimes only a word on a scrap of paper has led to a search that ended in establishing the identity of the soldier.

Recoveries Also Made.
Recoveries, as well as identifications, are constantly being made. In 1929 nearly 50 recoveries were made, and of that number 14 were identified, while 12 of the "Unknown" graves were identified. In the last six months there have been seven recoveries and four identifications, showing that the work of looking after the World War dead has not ended.

Another work in connection with the cemeteries that is progressing is the completion of the chapels being established in each cemetery. The American battle monuments commission estimates that the chapels in Flanders field cemetery and Brookwood cemetery will be finished by the time the pilgrimages start. Those of Alsace-Marne, Oise-Aisne, Somme and Suresnes will be completed in another year, and those in the St. Mihiel cemetery and Meuse-Argonne cemetery will be completed by May, 1932. In each chapel are inscribed the names of the men who are buried in the respective cemeteries. The chapels will also bear record of the 3,800 soldiers who are unknown or who were accounted "missing."

Pilgrims to Land at Cherbourg.
The pilgrims will be routed on steamers that will take them to Cherbourg, France, for debarkation. Those who expect to visit the Brookwood cemetery in England will debark at Southampton or Plymouth, and will remain in London, from where it is easy to travel to Brookwood. The other pilgrims will go to Paris and from there to the towns nearest their destination.

The largest cemetery of the eight is the Meuse-Argonne, which is about 250 kilometers from Paris. Because of that great distance the visitors may be quartered in a hotel in the small town of Romagne-sous-Montfaucon, in the department of the Meuse, about 45 kilometers from Verdun. In the Meuse-Argonne American cemetery are buried 14,167 Americans.

In the Oise-Aisne cemetery are buried 5,903 American soldiers, sailors and marines. The small towns near this cemetery are Sermaise-et-Nesles and Proen Tardenois in the department of Aisne. The cemetery is approximately 110 kilometers from Paris.

St. Mihiel Third in Size.
The St. Mihiel, which is third largest, is 810 kilometers from Paris. Here are buried 4,148 Americans. The St. Mihiel is near the small town of Thiaucourt, in the department of Meurthe-et-Moselle. It is 45 kilometers from Nancy and 47.5 kilometers from Verdun.

There are 2,268 Americans buried in the Alsace-Marne cemetery, near the village of Belleau in the department of Aisne, which is ten kilometers from Chateau Thierry, a town of about 8,000 inhabitants. This cemetery is 95 kilometers from Paris.

The Somme cemetery contains about 1,828 American soldier dead. The cemetery is in the department of Aisne and is near the village of Bony. It is three kilometers from Catela, 17 kilometers from St. Quentin and 154 kilometers from Paris. St. Quentin, a city of about 50,000 inhabitants, probably will be the pilgrims' headquarters, 1,500 in Suresnes Cemetery.

In the Suresnes cemetery there are 1,500 American dead. The cemetery is about 12 kilometers from Paris and is accessible by taxicab or train.

The Brookwood American cemetery, in the county of Surrey, is 28 miles from London. In this cemetery there are 437 American soldiers.

The smallest cemetery is Flanders field cemetery, where are buried 868 Americans. It is within a short distance of Waerghem, Belgium. It is 40 kilometers from Lille and 13 from Courtrai.

Not Through

Billy, age five, was invited as a guest with his mother and father to take dinner at a hotel. He was greatly impressed with the service and was especially appreciative of the finger bowl. He had paused in the process of washing his fingers, and the alert waitress started to remove the bowl. This time, however, her attempt was halted, for Billy remonstrated in an unmistakable tone of command: "Don't take the washbasin! I want to wash some more dirt off of my hands."

Former Immigrant Chambermaid Is Now Mistress of Immense Fortune.

Port Chester, N. Y.—A former Czechoslovakian immigrant chambermaid, who was darning the beds and sweeping the floors in the $6,000,000 mansion of Frank W. Savin, retired broker at Port Chester, three years ago, is mistress today of his $20,000,000 fortune, as a result of his death from an appendicitis operation.

Mrs. Savin, who left the servant's quarters on January 8, 1927, to become her employer's fourth wife, has at her command eight Rolls-Royces and two other expensive automobiles, the lot valued at $150,000; a staff of 30 servants, with a monthly pay roll of $3,500, and the right to call the puntless home her own.

Many Kin Enter Claims.
But how long she will remain at ease in this queenly state is problematical, for the legal pot has started to boil with the claims of former wives, cast-off children and others who the old broker left in the wake of his kaleidoscopic 70 years of life.

The present Mrs. Savin, formerly Anna Mary Schiele, forty-seven, who became a domestic in the mansion on the Sound 17 years ago and remained to become the bride of her "boss," has first claim.

But before her proper heritage can be determined, the courts probably will have to go back through the untold stormy history of Savin and weigh the claims of two disinherited natural children, two foster children and the near kin of three former wives.

Savin started from scratch, having been cut off with but $1 by his father, a wealthy sea captain. But he quickly built this up through real estate and stock investments, and when he married the beautiful Arriba Wheat of New Haven in 1871 he was reputed to be on the highway to wealth.

Disinherited Children.
His first wife obtained a legal separation in 1905, charging him with being "coarse, tyrannical, brutal, and inhuman" after he had thrown out and disinherited their two children, Frank W. Jr. and Josephine. A young servant girl in their home charged that the pair had stripped her of her clothing and painted her body with crayon and ink.

Savin next married Mrs. Sarah Hamilton West, who later was exposed as the Sadie West of the Lizzie investigation of vice and gambling in New York. When she died in 1911, he buried her in an unmarked grave beneath the tennis court on his estate, but his third wife compelled him to exhume the body and bury it elsewhere.

The third Mrs. Savin was, like the fourth, a servant in his house. She was Mrs. Sarah H. Treuwell, the housekeeper. She died in 1925. During this union, the broker adopted Muriel Elizabeth Withnall, a four-year-old orphan. And he also adopted Charles Ely Monroe, the former Mrs. Treuwell's brother-in-law, who was forty at the time.

Monroe, to whom Savin gave his own name and referred to as "my only son," and Muriel, who also took Savin's name, lived at Port Chester throughout his fourth marriage until last fall.

The difference between the idle rich and the idle poor is anxiety.

Nothing New
The young son of the Indianapolis physician is intensely interested in books. He reads everything that comes to hand concerning them. One day when his father saw him poring over a big volume in the library, he said:
"What are you reading, son?"
The son replied: "Oh, about books, but they don't tell me anything I don't already know about them."
"The interested parent asked: 'Well, what is the name of your book?' When son answered:
"What All Mothers Should Know."

Apparently a Highway Victim
Hobbs, aged four, had accompanied his mother on a visit to the home of an over-nice maided great-aunt. Cautioned for days and days beforehand, he was careful about everything he said and did—until dinner time came. Then he became eager, for he was told that chicken was on the menu.
When this delectable fowl was served, the Hobbs observed that there were no "drumsticks," but instead were shredded patties, he exclaimed:
"This chicken must have been run over!"

Growth of Sand Dunes
The sand dunes along the shores of lakes are formed by the wind. A stiff breeze blowing along the beach carries some sand with it. It meets some obstacle, a piece of driftwood or perhaps merely a tuft of grass. Some of the sand is deposited and a tiny dune is formed. More and more sand is added until a large mound is formed, sometimes rising to a height of 300 feet. The wind not only builds up dunes but tears them down, so that the sand dunes are constantly changing in form and position.

Egyptian Women Have No Choice in Husbands

Washington.—Egyptian women have started a movement for "equal rights," but have failed so far to gain the right to choose their own husbands or to overcome their traditional barriers to emancipation, according to Wilfrid H. Smith, senior secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in Egypt, who was in Washington recently to confer with local Y. M. C. A. officials.

A recent court decision, he states, upheld the contention that a single woman of marriageable age has no legal right to the disposal of her own person in marriage, this being the prerogative of the senior male member of her family.

English Judge Orders Man Whipped at Post

Maidstone, England.—Swift justice was dealt by Justice Swift, who sentenced George Watson to three months' hard labor and 18 lashes with the "cat" for robbing a girl, the owner of the court being: "You treat this girl with ferocious cruelty and you must be made to suffer something like the pain which you inflicted on her."

AT THE THEATRES

Today.
Kingston: Sunny Side Up. Enough cannot be said about this show. Janet Gaynor surely can sing, and so can Charles Farrell. The story is made for them. El Brendel furnishes the funny vein, and a comedy team, new to the screen, make hay while the sun shines. One scene, "Turn On the Heat," in which an Eskimo village becomes a desert oasis is extremely clever.

Don't miss it.
Broadway: "The Marriage Play-ground." Inside story of certain circles in high society. There is nothing particular to recommend this picture except the work of one of the child actors, Little Mitzi, who in a minor role steals the show.
Orpheum: "Speedway," one of the best pictures William Haines has done to date. The cast includes Karl Dane, Anita Page and Ernest Torrence, and the group makes a show worth seeing.

Tomorrow.
Kingston: "The Mighty." George Bancroft in another crook story. Bancroft plays a crook forced to go to war who on his return decides to go straight through the inspiration of a girl. As always Bancroft scores a hit. You ought to see it.

Broadway: Same.
Orpheum: Same.

Bears as Climbers
Most species of bear climb trees, although they do it in a slow, lumbering fashion. When they descend they usually come down hindquarters first. Their chief object in climbing trees is to obtain fruit or honey.

War Hero Ends Life;
"Frees Girl of Burden"

Council Bluffs, Iowa.—The medal of the French Legion of Honor remained today to remind Catherine Smith of her heroic fiancé, who killed himself rather than burden her.

In the battle of Chateau Thierry E. C. Anderson so distinguished himself that he was decorated by the French government. His valor cost one leg, however, and he was wounded in the other leg. After a decade of fighting his handicap Anderson learned that there was a likelihood that his remaining leg would have to be amputated.

Rather than burden Miss Smith with the cares of a helpless husband, Anderson shot himself with a revolver.

For Meditation

By LEONARD A. BARRETT

THE ECONOMIC APPEAL

MANY suggestions have been made for the attainment of international peace. A warless world is an ideal condition devoutly wished for by every person. But just how to realize that ideal is a question now receiving assiduous consideration by men who hold responsible positions in the business and political world.

Organized efforts for the attainment of international peace might be divided into three classes, upon two of which much time and labor have already been spent,
while the third is only beginning to receive serious consideration.

Of the two classes, the Moral appeal is doubtless the most important and effective. It looks through voluntary peace organizations to create "a will to peace" through cultivating public opinion in favor of peace. That public opinion is a very vital factor, no one will deny. Such organizations, unattached to any political party, are free from governmental control. The legislative appeal endeavors through compacts, official documents, etc., to enter into peace agreements with other nations. Many of these take the form of agreements to reduce the size of the navy and war materials.

The third effort is comparatively new. It is the Economic appeal. The International Chamber of Commerce has now before it for serious consideration the permanent elimination of war through economic methods. It is claimed that it would be impossible to carry on war without the use of basic metals and minerals, such as steel, nickel, mercury, etc. The argument is that those in control of the markets for these things should agree together that any use of them for other than industrial purposes would constitute a violation of trust, and at no time should they be sold for war purposes.
Mercury for instance is indispensable in warfare. If the sale of mercury could be so controlled as to make it unobtainable for war purposes, the result would be self evident. The same may be said of iron ore, coal and other raw materials. May we not expect a very valuable contribution to be made through the Economic appeal for the abolishing of war?

ARMY TO TEST S O S BY PLANE'S RADIO

"Mother" Ship to Accompany Squad to Coast.

Washington.—The army air corps will carry out an experiment to make long distance flights safer through the use of the short wave radio when the first pursuit group wings its way over the 3,500 miles of ice-bound country from Mt. Clemens, Mich., to Spokane, Wash., and back, this month.

Should the experiment prove a success, it is understood, the army is expected to issue an order that all army planes making long distance flights must be protected by short wave radio devices.

The present experiment is to be carried out with the aid of the American Radio Relay League and the General Electric company of Schenectady, N. Y.
Eighteen fast pursuit planes and a slower, and much larger "mother" radio ship will be in the experimental group.

The radio ship will follow the speedy fighting planes and will keep a sharp lookout for ships in distress. Every morning the radio ship will be in communication with the powerful short wave station of the General Electric company at Schenectady. That station will listen for the first ten minutes of each flying hour for S O S signals from the radio ship.

If an S O S is sent and received the Schenectady station will rebroadcast it to the army air corps posts in the area where the accident has occurred.
Also arrangements will be made to send the S O S out through regular long wave radio stations to the Northwest in order to inform people living in the vicinity.

Morning Snooze Better Than Setting-Up Drills

New York.—It is not only nicer to stay in bed, when the sun shining overhead, or however Henry J. Lauder's song phrases it, but it is a lot wiser than getting up and going through those setting-up exercises the radio boys reel off for the hopeful.

This is the opinion of the 124 members of the Society of Directors of Physical Education in Colleges, as expressed in a report read at their thirty-third annual meeting at the Hotel Astor.

Such exercises contribute little of social, psychological, safety or recreational value and add very little to the physical development of their adherents, the report states.

This report was the result of two years of investigation conducted by the committee on curriculum research, and is based on the answers from these 124 members of the association.
Of the 30 sports listed, calisthenics rates a poor twenty-ninth. Swimming and diving rate first.

The statute knot, generally considered the standard in marine circles, is 0.092.60 feet. To arrive at the number of feet the circumference of the earth is divided into 360 degrees, each degree containing 60 knots, or 21,600

this into 131,355,456, the number of feet in the earth's circumference, gives the length of the standard knot.

Unsightly Mail Box Supports

Postal Service to Eliminate Them Along Rural Roads—Supports Must Be Painted White.

Amending the postal regulations with regard to mail boxes along rural roads will materially aid the program to remove unsightly objects from along the nation's highways, according to officials of the Water County Automobile Club, which is affiliated with the American Automobile Association.

Officials of the local auto club pointed out that Postmaster General Brown has signed an order amending the postal regulations which provides that the posts or other supports on which rural mail boxes are erected shall be of a neat design and may be of wood, metal or concrete of suitable strength and dimension. They may be either round or square, plain or ornamental, with or without fixed or movable arm. The amended regulations provide that the supports shall be painted white.

Officials of the club said that a standard support for rural mail boxes is not contemplated. The requirement that the supports be painted white is believed to be desirable, if not absolutely necessary, to add to their visibility in the interest of safety and in harmony with the marking of highways.

The objective is to do away with the use of ugly of Uncle Sam and other figures as supports for mail boxes. Scattered throughout the rural sections of the country, these supports representing Uncle Sam, and painted in red, white and blue, are out of harmony with the purpose for which they are provided.

NABBED FOR MURDER AFTER 4-YEAR HUNT

Cappello Accused of Wanton Killing in Holdup.

Cambridge, Mass.—After more than four years of searching the law has reached out and taken heavily on the shoulder of Jerry Cappello, twenty-four, of East Boston, charged with the murder of Edward Q. Ross, bank messenger, at the Ward Baking company plant here in 1925.

Cappello is charged with first degree murder, for the same crime for which Jerry Gedzium, "Jerry the Pole," was electrocuted on February 23, 1928. A third man arrested in the case, Louis Lacerda, was released because of insufficient evidence.

Cappello's arrest was due to the alertness of Patrolmen Hannebury and Louiskel, who took him into custody in front of his home.

For four years the Cambridge police have been searching for Cappello, making several trips to Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont on the case during the last four years.

Engaged in Rum Running.

It was known in police circles that Cappello was running liquor from Canada, a fact which he admitted when arrested, and several traps were set in tiny towns near the Canadian border.

At one time, about a year ago, police lying in ambush nearly arrested Cappello at Newport, Vt., but he got away. During the last four years he has shown an uncanny knowledge of where police traps were set and circled around them.

At intervals he would make visits to East Boston haunts, where he was a familiar figure before the Cambridge murder. The police, knowing of these visits, but never being able to be at the right place at the right time, were outwitted until Cappello walked into the trap.

Cold Blooded Killing.

The murder of the bank messenger and theft of the $10,000 pay roll in front of the Ward Baking company on Albany street, was one of a long series of similar crimes that terrorized Cambridge during 1924 and 1925.

It was a needless and particularly coldblooded killing. Ross was at the wheel of the bank car as it drew up in front of the baking company with the weekly pay roll.

As it stopped three men stepped up with leveled guns snarling, "Put 'em up! Put 'em up!" As they spoke they opened fire and young Ross crumpled over the wheel with a bullet in his head and another in his lung.

The bandits ran to a fast car and sped away with the pay roll, amounting to $10,275.24, which they had wrestled from Rufus A. Johnson and William H. O'Toole, bank guards.

The bandits made a clean getaway, but several witnesses got a good look at them before they disappeared. It was on the testimony of those witnesses that Jerry Gedzium, known as Jerry the Pole, was later sent to the electric chair.

Canada Leads World in Production of Nickel

Ottawa, Ont.—Canada is the "little giant" among the world's producing nations.

Although possessing only about one-half of one per cent of the world's population, the Dominion produces many important commodities in large quantities.

Canada produces 90 per cent of the world's nickel supply and 15 per cent of the world's wood pulp. Canada gives the world about 10 per cent of its oats, 9 per cent of its wheat, and nearly 10 per cent of its gold and silver.

More than 16 per cent of the world's known coal resources are located in Canada. It has greater asbestos and nickel deposits than any other country in the world, and ranks third in the production of gold. The Dominion ranks eighth among the countries of the world as a producer of cheese and fifth as a producer of butter.

Game Wardens Puzzled, Bird Flies to Doom

Provo, Utah.—Going out and stalking the elusive pheasant is one way of obtaining a meal; sitting in your kitchen and waiting for a bird to fly in your window is another. Mrs. H. S. Price believes the watchful waiting art is more comfortable if not just as sure as the stalking.

She had hunted pheasants a few times, but without any luck. She sat in her kitchen and a beautiful big male bird crashed through the window and landed at her feet. She picked up the bird, plucked it and cooked it.

Game wardens were at a loss how to deal with the case, as the bird was obtained out of season. None of the state laws, however, provide for the treatment of birds who crash through one's window.

Man Carries Piece of Wire in Eye for 10 Years

Lewiston, Idaho.—An operation under the right eyeball of Frank Horak, disclosed a bit of wire that had been embedded there for ten years. Horak lost the sight of his right eye when struck by a wire whip ten years ago. He thought the injury had developed a tumor, and recently the spot started itching him. The operation and discovery followed.

"My Three Years Of Suffering Are Over"

Indigestion, Gas and Constipation Relieved; Backache Stopped; Kidneys Strengthened.

"Thanks to Dr. French's Nu-Erb, my three years of suffering are over," said Mrs. M. Clare, 45 Murray St., Kingston, N. Y., recently in an interview with the Nu-Erb man at McBride Drug Store, 312 Wall St., where he is daily introducing and explaining this new and different medicine to scores of local men and women.

"Before using this medicine, I suffered untold miseries with indigestion and a disordered stomach. Large quantities of gas formed in my stomach after meals causing hours of distress and pain. My kidneys were in a weakened condition. I suffered from backache continually and I was a chronic victim to constipation.

"The Nu-Erb has helped me in so many ways that I feel like telling everybody about this wonderful medicine. It has relieved the troubles with my stomach, strengthened my kidneys, the pains have left my back and I am no longer troubled with constipation. As a result of this new feeling of health, I sleep soundly at night, have a splendid appetite and I am feeling better in every way than I have for several years."

Let this amazing Nu-Erb help you back to health and strength. Its pure herbal juices tone and regulate the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and put new strength and energy in a rundown system.

MRS. CLARE.

McBride Drug Store, 312 Wall street, is headquarters in Kingston for Dr. French's Nu-Erb. Go see the Nu-Erb man now making his headquarters there and let him explain to you the merits of this remarkable medicine.

ELEANOR GUNN On Fashions

Woven pearl collars, bracelets and bands are among the new jewelry novelties.

Precious or imitation colored stones set in a background of brilliant diamonds are another novelty.

The trouser section of the modern pajama ensemble has widened to divided skirt proportions, uneven hemline also being seen.

The pajama with a fitted cape in place of a coat is another novelty.

Palm Beach as well as Paris has sponsored pastel shades alone or in combination.

Sisal, bakou, panamalaque and chavre sole are among the new straws to be found at all early spring showings. These are frequently combined with felt.

Such trimmings as are used on spring hats are usually placed at the back.

While Valenciennes is reported to be preferred to the coarse laces for lingerie, some of the new imports continue to use both coarse and deeply tinted laces such as Alencon and point de Paris.

Embroidery is appearing on lingerie in more generous quantities than heretofore and is coupled with lace.

Terry cloth which has been in wide usage for beach coats is now being used for beach pajama ensembles.

Handkerchief linen tennis frocks, sleeveless of course, are reported as winning favor in the south.

The cowl neckline is frequently seen in spring dress collections.

Bows placed on shoulder, wrist and sometimes hips are again a fashion feature.

Moire is being worn for evening to a considerable extent and seems to be especially liked in aquamarine and watergreens.

One of the interesting spring color schemes is navy combined with lemon yellow. Navy with chartreuse was a last season note.

Gray is also effectively combined with lemon yellow.

Tulle, net and lace are conspicuous in evening fashions abroad.

Prints employing two colors, one for the ground and one for printed motif are cited for spring. A pastel flower on black is an example of this type of print.

The bolero theme is prominently played up in many spring dress collections, capelets also being popular.

Related prints and related woolsens are among the spring's expressions of chic.

White silks printed in black are said to be a leading print fashion, many of these are the so called photographic types.

Savoy blue is being exploited and is the line of the ribbon of the House of Savoy—which is of interest because of the recent marriage of Prince Umberto and Princess Marie-Jose.

Eyelet embroidery is being revived.

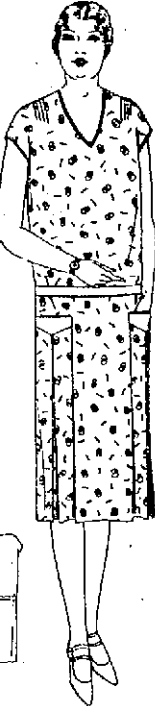

Rouge or candy pink is one of the most approved pink tones, and pink is highly approved for evening. Shell pink is another favorite.

Ribbon is a recurrent trimming note.

Brief wraps for evening are the choice of fashionables.

One importer of coats gives as his opinion that the separate spring coat should be several inches below the knee but always several inches shorter than the frock with which it is to be worn.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

A Comfortable and Pleasing Morning Frock for Women of Mature Figure.

6692. This slip on frock is charming in cotton prints, as well as in tub silk, crepe or linen. The plait inserts at the sides of the front, lend pleasing fullness. They are topped by patch pockets useful and decorative. The shoulders finished with narrow tucks are lengthened to form short sleeve extensions over the top of the arms. A narrow belt holds the fullness at the waistline.

This pattern is cut in 8 sizes: 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50 and 52 inches bust measure. To make the dress for a 46 inch size will require 3 1/2 yards of 35 inch material. To make the belt and pockets of contrasting

The smartest length of all for the new evening dress is four fingers above the top of the toes. That, by the way, is the official translation of toe-length, 'cherries. Black morocain Chanel model. Rita material will require 1 1/4 yard 35 inches wide. To finish neck and sleeve edges with bias binding will require 2 yards 1 1/2 inches wide. The width of the dress at the lower edge with plait fullness extended is 2 1/3 yards.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

"Good Marks"

The parents of two East side children promised them something nice if their report cards were good. The little girl brought hers home very proudly and exhibited it. Buddy didn't bring his home until the following day, and knowing his sister's and sevenies wouldn't match up with his sister's, he added a cipher to them to make them read 600 and 700.—Indianapolis News.

FASHION NOVELTIES IN NEW DE MILLE TALKIES.

"Dynamite" is Cecil B. De Mille's first production under his affiliation with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. This is De Mille's first talking picture and will be shown at the Orpheum Theatre for four days, commencing Monday, February 3.

"Dynamite" has a society background, returning the director of "The Ten Commandments" to the sort of theme and atmosphere which made "Manslaughter", "Male and Female", and "Why Change Your Wife?" so successful. It is an original story of Jeanie MacPherson.

De Mille has created many fashion novelties for the picture, and a special staff was engaged to design the gowns and other dress effects for the picture.

Charles Bickford, Conrad Nagel, Kay Johnson and Julia Faye head the cast.

Hudson River

From New York bay to Albany the Hudson is really not a river at all, but a kind of fjord, formed by the sinking of the original river valley and its invasion by salt water. For this distance it is a tidal stream. Above Troy the river is a small stream with numerous rapids and falls.

Calumet's DOUBLE-ACTION has made the oven a safer place for cakes

MAKE THIS TEST—See for yourself how Calumet Baking Powder acts twice to make your baking better. Put two level teaspoons of Calumet into a glass, add two teaspoons of water, stir rapidly five times and remove the spoon. The tiny, fine bubbles will rise slowly, half filling the glass. This is Calumet's first action—the action that takes place in your mixing bowl. After the mixture has entirely stopped rising, stand the glass in a pan of hot water on the stove. In a moment, a second rising will start and continue until the mixture rises to the top of the glass. This is Calumet's second action—the action that takes place in your oven. Make this test today. See Calumet's Double-Action which protects your baking from failure.

You will find that Calumet Baking Powder gives you the greatest possible help in preventing baking failures. For Calumet acts twice—and this double-action makes your cake come out successfully even though you may not be able to regulate your oven temperature accurately.

Calumet acts first in the mixing bowl. Then, when you put your cake into the oven, the second action occurs, lifts the batter right up and holds it until the cake is perfectly baked—fine-grained, fluffy, beautiful! All baking powders are required by law to be made of pure, wholesome ingredients. But not all are alike in their action. Not all will give you equally fine results in your baking. Calumet is scientifically made of exactly the right ingredients, in exactly the right proportions to produce perfect leavening action—Double-Action. Calumet's Double-Action has made it the most popular baking powder in the world.

Bake a Calumet cake today. Measure to use only one level teaspoon of Calumet to a cup of sifted flour—the usual Calumet proportion for best results. A real economy, too. Notice Calumet comes in full-sized one-pound cans.

Y's Men Hear Of Hog Cholera

The Kingston Y's Men's Club held an extremely interesting meeting Tuesday evening at the "Y". In the attendance contest team "A" with Captain Ernest LeFevre and Lieutenant Stanley Winno still retained their lead over team "B", Captain James Scott and Lieutenant Earl Leemon. Team "A" had every member present but one.

President Morton McLoughlin introduced as speaker of the evening J. C. Fraser of the Kingston High school faculty who gave a most interesting address.

Mr. Fraser traced the progress of the preparation of hog cholera serum as carried out by the United States Department of Agriculture at its station in southern Illinois.

The cleanliness and care taken in the preparation of the serum which annually saves thousands of hogs from the mirage of this pernicious disease was emphasized by the speaker.

In order to insure results, Mr. Fraser said one group of hogs is used as a control. Having been inoculated with the disease this group furnishes an active culture of the disease. This group then dies in the natural sequence of events and the remains are disposed of in a hygienic manner.

The active cholera obtained in then used for the production of anti-toxic serum in a second group of hogs which recover, having produced this serum. The serum is obtained by bleeding the individual hog from time to time by cutting off the tail. The final source obtained by killing the hog. The total blood of the hog is collected, gently agitated, cooled and bottled for distribution as the serum.

Mr. Fraser's address was thoroughly enjoyed by the men and he was roundly applauded.

The dinner was served by the Misses Lillian and Lucille Collin and M. Showers.

A fine line of programs for the future meetings is being carefully planned by the entertainment committee.

Why Many People Overdraw

One of the easiest ways in which to overdraw a bank account, according to the teller of a downtown bank, is that practice of writing a check on a blank check borrowed from a friend. Many people do this, he said, and then forget to make the deduction when the check book is available. "If all people carried their check books all the time and used only the checks from this book, there would be a noticeable decrease in the overdrawing of accounts," he said.—Detroit News.

Why "End of the Rainbow"

According to an ancient legend, if a person digs at the spot where a rainbow touches the ground he will find a pot of gold. The source of the legend is unknown. Visionaries and dreamers are sometimes called "rainbow chasers."

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

New York—Lloyd M. Kuli, who is being sued for separation, avers that his wife is a great admirer of Fannie Brice and his picked up the idea of married people ought to live apart for a few months every year.

Los Angeles—Hal Leseur, film actor, who has obtained a divorce, said in court that his wife had gone completely Hollywood by insisting on separate apartments.

New York—It seems that Mary Garden voluntarily has been a cupid.

Esther Johnson says that Mary Garden's sister Edna Louise is to go to Paris and study drama. Now Edna is Mrs. Dudley Field Malone.

London—One of the richest bachelors has become richer. Sir Philip Sassoon, 41, grandson of a Nabob and formerly under secretary for air, has inherited $750,000 from a cousin.

New York—Gwen Taylor, actress and daughter of an army aviator, who says she has parachuted from planes seven times in daddy's safety devices, has leaped into matrimony again. Jimmy Ardell, who was in a show with her, is her second husband. Her first marriage, to James Davis, another actor, was followed by an annulment. Betty Grace Tucker is Gwen's real name.

Brockton, Mass.—Primo Carnera wears size 21 shoes in the ring. They are nine inches beam and 18 1/2 from bow to stern; gross tonnage and draught unrecorded. A pair was made for him here.

Chicago—George Smart, who had been trying to learn to be an automobile mechanic, is dead, a suicide. For years a mighty man was he, a smith, who merrily fashioned shoes for horses.

Tetuan, Morocco—The skeleton of a dinosaur has come to Tetuan via Chicago. A scientific mission has determined that fossil remains which created quite a stir, especially because of long iron teeth, are nothing but the relic of a farmer who was evicted by tribesmen in 1917, to wit, a hayrake made in the U. S. A.

New York—A girl is as safe among some cannibals as in New York, and that doesn't mean that the dangers of New York are great. So says Miss Caroline Mytinger, artist, back from four years' painting in the South Seas. She was accompanied by Miss Margaret Warner.

The DAIRYCLEANLINESS IS BEST FOR CALFEvery Utensil Should Be Washed and Sterilized.

To have a runt among the calves usually means that some one has failed at the calf management job. Perhaps one of the most overlooked tasks is that of cleanliness of quarters.

"Cleanliness is one of the most essential things in the whole process of feeding the calf," relates James W. Linn, extension dairyman, Kansas State Agricultural college, by way of cautioning dairymen against the ill of unclean quarters and feed. "Especially is this true as long as it is necessary to feed whole milk or milk substitutes."

Every utensil, including the bucket, dipper, separator, and can, should be washed and sterilized at every feeding, recommends the extension specialist. Such a practice will insure against foreign material or bacteria getting in the milk.

Temperature and quantity of milk are important considerations to be given calf management. It will pay dairymen to use a thermometer and see that the milk is kept as near the normal temperature at production time as possible. It is essential to feed the calf its milk at the same temperature each feeding.

Linn recommends weighing to the tenth of a pound the milk fed the calf. His formula calls for one pound of milk to each ten pounds of live weight of calf until 16 pounds daily is reached. Do not increase above that amount.

Proper Feeding Rule to Follow in Cold Weather

It is a good rule in winter feeding to allow one pound of grain or concentrate feed per day to cows for each four pounds of milk they produce testing 3 to 3½ per cent fat; or one pound per day for each three pounds of milk if it tests 5 per cent or more of fat. This rule may be used as a guide to determine how much grain to feed during the pasture season. With the grass still in fairly good condition one-third as much grain as is required in the winter season will ordinarily be enough, but as the season advances and the grass shortens and dries a gradual increase becomes necessary.

Judgment, however, must be the main rule always. The aim should be to maintain production and the condition of the cows. Cows in the advanced stages of their milking periods that are only producing 10 to 15 pounds daily will not ordinarily require concentrate feeds during the pasture season.

Cream Will Deteriorate

Even in Winter Season

Cool weather does not mean that cream can be held several days without damaging its quality, points out J. O. Barkman, in charge of dairy manufacturers at the experiment station of the University of Kentucky. Sweet cream held at a temperature of 60 degrees for a week or ten days makes a poor grade of butter. Such cream may be of low acidity and sweet to the taste when churned, but the resulting butter will have an old flavor. Winter cream kept in cellars where such vegetables as onions and cabbage are stored will have a bad flavor. Likewise, cream kept in the kitchen is exposed to the odors of foods being cooked, and to the heat of the stove. Cream should not be allowed to freeze, as frozen cream makes an oily butter of poor quality.

Dairy Facts

Live stock farming is often said to be one of the most satisfactory ways of maintaining soil fertility.

Watch the position of the cream or skim milk screw in the cream separator. Any change in this screw will affect the cream test.

So far as investigations have gone, there are no cases that have shown that the calves from a tuberculous bull or even from a cow inherit tuberculosis.

Cows continue in much better physical condition and maintain their milk flow at a higher level throughout the winter months when legume hays are fed in place of non-legumes.

Trouble with stringy milk may usually be overcome by thoroughly boiling and disinfecting all utensils, according to dairy experts at University Farm, St. Paul.

See that the calves' bowels are in normal condition and their appetites keen. If off feed, it is apt to be from indigestion or impure milk.

Keep the dairy cows in the barn on all cold, stormy days. The additional milk obtained will pay for the extra feed and care.

Spiders Put to Work
To obtain spiders' thread for use as a sighting aid in surveyors' telescopes, Canadian government instrument makers catch fire or six gray spiders and wind the threads they spin on wire forks shackled to hold the strands in place.

Interesting Talk On South Africa

After many years of residence and travel in South Africa, Alice Campbell has arrived in Kingston and on Thursday told the Kiwanians and their friends some very interesting things about that vast and wealthy country. The speaker was as enthusiastic as the residents of Los Angeles who attended a funeral at which everything that had been said concerning the deceased that was worth repeating. The clergyman asked if any one else cared to say something when the enthusiast arose and said, "I would like to tell you a little about California. All of the lots are about sold." The Kiwanians hope that some one will find a way to bring South Africa here so we may visit it.

Mr. Campbell told of the great fertile valleys where tea and cotton are grown; the vast cattle ranges and the enormous sheep and goat herds. These industries are growing so rapidly that they will soon leave the other competing territories behind in commercial importance. The greatest ostrich farms are there, simply because the country has the most equable climate in the world which the ostrich demands for his best development. The diamonds, the coal, gold, tin, zinc and iron deposits are almost unbelievable in extent.

The government control of the native Zulu, he said, was of most interest to him. When the British conquered the Zulu they gave the natives a pledge that all of his customs, language and religion should be safeguarded to him. The whites must deal with the natives through commissioners, who act as guards over the native interests. The natives wear little else besides a string of beads about the hips and a loin-cloth. A man is allowed to marry when he proves his worthiness by the deeds of valor and then he can have as many wives as he can afford. Wives are valued at from five cows and up. A Zulu woman who costs fifteen cows is indeed a proud one.

Mr. Campbell knew Mahatma Gandhi when he lived in South Africa. Indians are in great abundance in that region and the whites are in the minority.

Mr. Campbell will speak at a later meeting on the great men of South Africa, such as Cecil Rhodes, General Smuts, Ooni Paul Kruger, and many others.

Judge Fowler's table was honored by being asked to render a song which the club as a whole failed to do to the satisfaction of the song leader.

PLAINTIFF'S OWN TESTIMONY WENT AGAINST THEM.

J. Frank and Charles Bingham, both of the Bronx, who brought actions in Supreme Court for $20,000 and $500 respectively against Joe Dealey, vaudeville man, had both actions thrown out of court recently in the Bronx. The accident happened three and a half years ago on the Saengerles road, six miles from Kingston. Plaintiffs showed by their own testimony that their own car was on the wrong side of the road. The jury took but one vote to acquit Dealey.

Here's Matrimonial Ad in Newspaper of 177

The art of matrimonial advertisement seems to be of old standing, judged from an insertion in the Swedish provincial newspaper, the Carlskrona Veckoblad, of 1771, recently unearthed and reproduced in a Stockholm daily. It is as follows: "The honorable public will not too adversely note the following well-meant advertisement. A it sometimes happens that a pretty and well-to-do girl long passes unnoticed just because of the fact that honorable suitors do not know her fortune, or how much her parents will bestow on her as a wedding gift. It is herewith announced that, now, an honorable girl, twenty-one years of age, rather pretty, mannerly, a la mode and well bred, who, besides, understands cooking, washing, baking, etc., which, no doubt, will be further improved through her intelligence when she, through marrying, gets more practice in household things, possesses in property, real and movable about 15,000 Silver Dalers, besides which she expects a legacy from her old grandmother. If some decent bachelor, preferably a noble, clergyman or otherwise somehow well-situated man, should speculate, a somewhat more precise address of the girl's guardian can be had at the printing office of this paper. But it is stipulated as a condition that none but gallant cavaliers, well built and of good carriage, take the trouble of offering their names; in the opposite case no further particulars will be given."

"Great Britain"

Britannia Major, meaning Great Britain, was the name formerly given to the whole island to distinguish it from Britannia Minor, which was the name given to Brittany. James I used the title king of Great Britain, but without the sanction of parliament. It was not officially adopted until after the union of England with Scotland in 1707. After the union with Ireland in 1800 the country became known as the Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

Not for Her!

Small Jeanne, who had been used to having her hair cut at home, was taken to the barber shop for the first time. Proudly she was seated in the chair. When the current was turned on so the clippers could be used she became terrified. "Stop it, stop it!" she sobbed; "I don't have a vacuum sweeper on my head."

BEAN SUPPERS AND BIBLE CLASSES POPULAR

The Thursday bean supper and Bible class periods at the Y. M. C. A. are very popular with the boys, 50 of whom attended the features this week. The supper consisted of beans, cooked spiced; rolls, cocoa and cake, efficiently served by Mrs. Van Keuren and Mrs. Longyear of the Y. M. C. A. Ladies' Auxiliary.

For Bible study the boys have been divided into four classes: Student C that takes up popular Bible stories under the direction of C. A. Baltz, Jr.; Student B, studying athletes of the Bible under the guidance of Stuart Parks; Student A and the Employed Boys, who are under the leadership of N. H. Fuller, boys' secretary of the Y.

Another bean supper will be held at the Y. M. C. A. on Thursday evening, February 6, at 6 o'clock. A small charge is made for the supper. Every boy is eligible to attend. All those who attend three consecutive meetings will be served with ice cream as a special dish.

Directors' Meeting

Timber Wolf Becomes Pal of Michigan Man

Traverse City, Mich.—Mark Crow, Traverse City conservation officer, has successfully tamed a young timber wolf. The wolf, taken by Crow while a pup and nursed from a bottle, answers his master's call like a dog, and follows him about the house. It eats meat from a platter, and is glad to accept the warmth and comfort of a pillow. Also, it is gentle in temperament. Man has never been fortunate in his experiment with the wolf, and Crow is wondering whether his pet will prove the exception to the rule, or revert to type when it becomes older.

Kingston Meets Liberty Tonight

Tonight in Kingston High School gymnasium, the Varsity basketball team will meet Liberty High School's cage game experts, who hope to put a stop to the local quintet's march toward the DUSO League championship.

Kingston so far has been successful in three league games. The Maroon and White team registered two wins over Port Jervis High and one over Ellenville. Great superiority was shown by the local boys in the three contests, their ability presaging that the DUSO championship is within their grasp.

Liberty hopes to reverse the Broadway School boys tonight on their own court, and will make every effort to do so in a decisive manner. The invaders have the reputation of being a strong quintet and may succeed in putting Kingston off its winning track.

However, the attempted task of shattering the Maroon and White team's course to the DUSO honors will be a difficult one because Coach Klas will have all of his first-string men available tonight. His winning combination is tuned to the finest for the battle, having practiced every day but Monday.

The game will get under way at 8:15. It will be preceded by a contest between the Kingston High School Seconds and the team of Highland High School. The scrimmage will be an interesting one according to all indications. It will start at 7:15.

Many students, and outsiders, too, who have been reading and hearing so much about Kingston High School varsity's playing ability, are expected to witness tonight's game.

BOUTS IN MADISON SQUARE GARDEN TONIGHT

New York, Jan. 31 (P).—Lightweights hold sway in Madison Square Garden tonight as Al Singer, 125-pounder from the Bronx, takes on rugged Stanislaus Lozay of Chile, in a ten-round bout.

Rated by some critics as the man most likely to remove the lightweight crown from Sammy Mandell's head, Singer has been established a 2 to 1 favorite. The Chilean is a rough customer, apparently impervious to punishment, but he is not as fast, nor as good a boxer, nor as heavy a puncher as Singer.

Doc Conrad meets Harry Ebbs, Freeport, N. Y., middleweight, in the ten-round semi-final.

Don Volante, English featherweight, tackles Louis Quadrini of Italy in the first ten.

Texas Open Tournament.

San Antonio, Tex., Jan. 31 (P).—Somewhat worn from months of constant campaigning, but unwilling to call a halt as long as $7,600 in cash prizes is lying around loose, a swarm of the country's leading professionals had taken another hitch in their belts today and were prepared to scrap it out in the Ninth Annual Texas Open Tournament.

Sport Slants

By Alan J. Gould
(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

Jack Dempsey, with his account books understood to show something like $40,000 in the red for the fight he has promoted in the Chicago Coliseum this winter, may regret that he turned down a proposal a year ago to join forces with the millionaires of Madison Square Garden who numbered 600 or thereabouts before the stock market crash.

When the Sharkey-Stribling fight was being played to a profitable tune at Miami Beach last winter, Dempsey was the fair-haired boy with the bunch from Wall Street and Eighth Avenue. One of them remarked he was "amazed" at Dempsey's flair for attending to important business details, meanwhile steaming up the big ballgame. The big men of boxing discovered a side to Dempsey's ability they did not know existed and they sought at once to do something about it.

The Garden, it is understood, offered Dempsey a post as "vice-president in charge of boxing," the main idea being that he would supply some of the public appeal lost through Tex Rickard's death and act as the big window-dressing man for the more important fights. The hitch came on the question of salary. Dempsey was offered $50,000 but refused it and demurred $100,000. The Garden viewpoint was that Dempsey first should demonstrate he was worth more than $50,000. Jack's attitude was he needed to make big money quickly, rather than to wait for a "break".

In the mellowing ease and breeze of Miami Beach, Dempsey no doubt at the time sounded very plausible to himself. In fact quite a number of friends told him, in effect, he would be foolish to dispose of his talents for a mere $50,000 to a lot of hard-headed business men from New York. Since then, however, in the cold reality of winter along Chicago's lake front, Dempsey has discovered that without his own fist-work as an attraction, it is difficult to break even, let alone make a profit.

Charley White, whose left hook was a lightweight menace before Benny Leonard became champion and for some time thereafter, has aroused some vivid memories by his talk of a come-back. The Colorado Springs Gazette recalls that White once fought Freddy Welsh when the Briton was champion, or Labor Day, 1916, in the Colorado city and says: "Just before the fight got under way, a section of the arena gave way and two persons were killed and hundreds were injured. The fight itself was not so interesting. Welsh followed his usual cautious style and was not averse to back-pedaling, a policy later adopted by Gene Tunney. White, on the other hand, was on top of Welsh all during the battle, attempting to gain a decisive victory by a knockout. He was unable to connect with his famous left hand with the chin of the champion, however. "When the referee gave the decision in Welsh a riot was started. Sports writers at the ring-side, ringworms and those seated near the ring were forced to seek cover under the wood platform, in order to escape the volley of pop bottles, rocks and other weapons thrown by the occupants of seats higher up in the arena."

ENTRIES FOR 1930 DAVIS CUP TENNIS CLOSING TONIGHT

Paris, Jan. 31 (P).—Entries for 1930 Davis Cup tennis competition close at 10 o'clock tonight with little chance that the record number of 33 nations, established in 1928, will be equalled.

Only four nations thus far have challenged for the cup, now firmly held by the famous Muskeleers of France. Only four nations will compete in the American zone, Japan having preferred to challenge in the European zone this year. In the American zone, the United States will be heavy favorites to win over Canada, Mexico and Cuba.

With 25 nations already in the field and two or three more expected to enter, competition in the European zone will not be the open and shut affair it seems to be in the American zone. Italy, winners of zone competition last year, Great Britain and Germany may make trouble for some of the European teams. Other nations entered in this zone are Holland, Hungary, Belgium, Switzerland, Monaco, Spain, Rumania, Czechoslovakia, Ireland, Egypt, Australia, Yugoslavia, Greece, Sweden, Finland, Denmark, and Norway.
